

Catholic Advisory Group Statement Congratulating President Donald Trump and Vice President Mike Pence

Following the conclusion of the first week of the Trump Administration, the Catholic Advisory Group, which provided advisory support to the Trump/Pence campaign on issues of greatest importance to Catholics, issued the following statement of congratulations:

The Catholic Advisory Group congratulates and thanks President Donald Trump and Vice President Mike Pence for a successful and highly productive first week in office.

Upon our launch last September, we highlighted seven issue areas of greatest concern to Catholics: religious liberty, the right to life, judicial nominations, education, healthcare, jobs and taxation, and the safety and security of country and communities.

Through bold and decisive leadership with executive orders, memoranda and nominations, as well as key meetings and outreach, President Trump and Vice President Pence have already begun to make substantial progress in each of these areas.

We will continue to pray for President Trump, Vice President Pence, their families, and the staff of the Administration as they carry out their important work.
